Do I qualify?

Each case must qualify first. The first step is to determine your willingness and if you have a travel companion available. Then we review the type of surgical procedure, and cost analysis before a decision is made on qualification. The only way to determine if you would qualify for this offer is to contact us once you know you are in need of a medical procedure/surgery. If it is determined that you qualify for this option, a Medical Travel Specialist will work closely with you to discuss and arrange all the details for you.

If you qualify, you can expect the following phases during your medical travel:

PHASE 1: Departure

Hostcare Resources will be your personal travel agent and assist in arranging ground and/or air transportation to the selected medical destination. An itinerary is created with all the travel details and we remain readily accessible through out your travel.

PHASE 2: Arrival

Our desire is that you have the best and most comfortable experience while traveling. We have partnered with highly rated hotels, car rental facilities, and providing a meal travel allowance to you for added expenses.

PHASE 3: Surgery

Upon arriving to your consultation and/or pre-op, you will meet with the surgeon face to face. Your appointments will be clearly outlined on your itinerary. You can expect professional, friendly medical staff and state of the art facilities.

PHASE 4: Hospital Stay

Most procedures are outpatient procedures, however, when overnight stays are required we arrange all the details with the medical facility and surgeon. Upon release, you will return to your hotel for a restful recovery.

PHASE 5: Postcare

You will be released with post-op instructions and if necessary, a skilled nurse will visit your hotel room to assist with any post op needs. The surgeon will give you a full travel release and if local follow-up care or physical therapy is needed, you will receive assistance in finding a facility.

Navigating through the medical process can be overwhelming. Through our service, this burden is taken off of you and we become your personal navigators. Hostcare Resources has been selected to deliver domestic medical travel options with your satisfaction being our first priority.
